

Divorce an Indication Of Failure; Tighten Up Laws, Says Dr. Reisner

The third of a series of interviews in an unusual discussion of the divorce problems is published below. It presents the views of the Rev. Dr. Christian F. Reisner, pastor of the Broadway Temple Methodist Episcopal Church, as expressed to a Boston Evening American reporter.

The question under discussion is whether divorce laws should be more liberal or more stringent. The series will be continued daily, presenting the views of outstanding advocates and opponents of liberal divorce.

The interview with Dr. Reisner follows:

A group of friends met the other day to have a dinner party. They were gay. It was in the nature of a celebration.

What for? What were they celebrating?

Didn't they know they were failures? Is that anything to be proud of?

That's my idea on this divorce question. Every time a man or a woman dashes into court and asks for a divorce he says, "I have just made a big failure." He's like a bankrupt who was proud of the fact that he hadn't been able to hold his own in the business world.

Many Due to Ignorance

Of course, a lot of these marriage failures have been brought about by ignorance. I notice that to an alarming degree among the college graduates. It is amazing how pitifully ignorant they are. Makes you wonder, really, what they could have learned—if anything—in college. They forget all their calculus, geometry, Latin, Greek, physics and the like and grab—that is the best word for it—grab at some crack-brained theories which try to legitimize sex contact. They say it is nature. Fiddlesticks.

Why, if that kind of philosophy were true we ought to have divorce laws so free and easy that the cop on post could grant a decree. But it isn't true. And people who are honest know it isn't true.

Dubious About Law

Tighten up the divorce laws. I am not sure that I believe in a divorce law such as exists in New York State, for it is not at all comprehensive. I do not consider it an intelligent law. Certainly there is more than one good reason why an honest contract, honestly entered into, might be dissolved.

But tighten up the law so that the human race might have a chance to gain in mental strength from a legitimate struggle; a genuine struggle to make a success out of what threatens to become a failure.

There is what I hope to see happen. Certainly there will be difficulties, adversities and setbacks in any contractual relationship. Make it necessary by law for the parties to that con-

STAGE STARS TO AND JOBLESS

400 Air Mechanics Go Out on Strike

Patterson, N. J., Dec. 18 (AP)—Four hundred mechanics engaged in the manufacture of aircraft motors failed to appear in the plant of the Wright Aeronautical Company today. The International Machine Union said the walkout, which came at a time when government orders would keep the men busy for two years, was in protest against the bonus and group incentive systems.

tract to buckle down to good hard work to put it across.

Necessary Sometimes

Frequently—far more often than otherwise—they find that in the light they are both making to make good, they will reach a state of marriage that is finer, nobler, better than they ever conceived it.

Under great scrutiny and restriction divorce may be necessary. But when it is necessary and when it has been consummated, let there be the legitimate shame accompany it that goes with failure at any time and under any conditions.

Don't be proud of your divorce. Be ashamed of it.

See tomorrow's Boston Evening American for the next interview in this unusual series. It presents the views of Fannie Hurst, popular novelist.

Readers of the Boston Evening American are urged to express their opinions on this question of divorce. Letters should be addressed to the Discussion Editor, Boston Evening American, 5 Winthrop sq., Boston, Mass. The most interesting letters will be published in the Evening American.

Vice Probe Girl Points to Petter

New York, Dec. 18 (AP)—Two girls who accuse policeman of "framing" them on vice charges made several arrests today in attempting to point out the policeman in court. The girls were Winifred Grayson and Marjorie Wharton. Miss Grayson, however, said she remembered Peter F. "I remember Lamb perfectly," she said, "because I was sitting on his lap."

$2300 Brooch, Lost Mysteriously, Found

Haverhill, Pa., Dec. 18 (AP)—Mrs. Berne H. Evans is rejoicing at the return of a $2300 diamond brooch lost last summer at Edgartown, Martha's Vineyard. It was found by a man named Fisher, who left it at an Edgartown shop, where he was told a woman had claimed it and left $2 reward. Meanwhile Mrs. Evans had offered a reward of $500. Detectives traced the brooch. There was no prosecution.

Today, in the real estate columns of the Evening American, find out who is purchasing for probable investment.

HOUSE PASSES
150 MILLION
FARM EXTRA

Washington, Dec. 18 (AP)—The House today passed without opposition the Wood bill which provides an additional $150,000,000 for the Farm Board. The measure now goes to the Senate.

The House Appropriations Committee recommended that Congress approve the appropriation at once, so the aid can continue to make loans to grain and cotton stabilization corporations.

It said a request for $150,000,000 more would be made for the board's operations in the next fiscal year, bringing the total to $500,000,000, the amount authorized by Congress under the farm rearing act.

Chairman Leger had said this $150,000,000, which would bring appropriations to $500,000,000 for the revolving fund, was needed to meet existing commitments aggregating $750,000,000. The present balance of the fund is $300,000,000, most of which is to be raised soon.

STEEG STARTS

Paris, Dec. 18 (INS)—The newly formed French cabinet unanimously approved the ministerial declaration of policy today of its head, Senator Theodore Steeg.

The declaration now goes to the Chamber of Deputies for a vote. Premier Steeg earlier had received letters of resignation from M. Thominex, minister of pensions, and MM. Cury and Caurio, under-secretaries of the interior and agriculture respectively. Differences over religious and clerical schools caused the resignations.

News of the three resignations spread like wildfire, causing great alarm that Premier Steeg already was as good as defeated. This opinion was strengthened by the cool reception accorded M. Steeg's declaration. Only the radical Socialists and Socialists, who predicted, intimating almost certain defeat.

He said he would plead not guilty and assert that he was moved by a desire to make restitution as quickly as possible.

LORDS CORNER M'DONALD

London, Dec. 18 (AP).—The House of Lords today insisted upon retaining its amendment proposing the death penalty for a further year, thus joining the MacDonald Government in a difficult position between the Lords and the Commons.

The bill now goes back to Commons, where the MacDonald administration is faced with the decision of whether it shall bow to the Lords and accept the amendment, propose some compromise, or reject the amendment, which would automatically entail the loss of the existing law.

As this bill contains legislation which the government is most anxious to have approved, the MacDonald ministry is placed in a gravely embarrassing position.

By the narrow margin of only six votes Commons last night supported the government.

Mrs. Keith-Miller to Try for Air Records Here

Washington, Dec. 18 (UPI).—Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller, young aviatrix who flashed to fame by her flight to Australia, plans to try for speed and endurance records in this country, she declared today.

Disappointed over the crash of her plane Monday at Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Keith-Miller already is negotiating for a new speed plane. The aviatrix arrived in Washington yesterday by train from Jacksonville, en route to Pittsburgh. She had lunch at the guest of the British ambassador, Sir Donald Lindsay, and also discussed aviation at the embassy with Wing Commander Plender, an aviator.

Later Mrs. Keith-Miller called on Admiral Moffett, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, to thank him for the aid extended when she was believed lost during her flight from Havana to Miami.

SEN. GREENE OF VERMONT DIES

St. Albans, Vt., Dec. 18 (AP).—Frank Lester Greene, senior United States senator from Vermont, died here late yesterday during a sudden collapse after he apparently had suffered from an abdominal operation. The senator arrived here from Washington Sunday afternoon and was operated upon Monday morning.

The senator's death closed a distinguished career of a soldier, newspaperman and statesman. Senator Greene was born in St. Albans February 10, 1870.

In 1911 he started his newspaper career on the St. Albans Messenger, becoming editor in a few years. In 1920 he married Jessie Emma Richardson, of St. Albans. They had two sons, Capt. Richard L. Greene, U. S. A., and Stuart Greene, in the family.

Chicago Well Toasted at Banquet of Lawyers

Chicago, Dec. 18 (AP).—Crime and Punishment was the title of a comedy staged by members of the Chicago Bar Association at a "gilded" dinner in which the attorneys directed their humor against almost all of Chicago's chief officials.

One character was made to say: "I'm the lawyer for the men who pay." "I'm Al Capone's own protegee," "I'm counsel for the great beer trust." "Their differences I adjust." "I guide the men, with skill and art." "Who breaks your whiskey from Detroit." "Suppose some cut-throat knave or thug." "Is by mistake thrown in the jug." "Who gets him out? Who sets him free?" "I'll tell you, gentlemen—it's me."

Hoover Sends Sympathy to Family of Senator

Washington, Dec. 18 (UPI).—When the death of Sen. Frank L. Greene (R), of St. Albans, Vt., was announced in the Senate late yesterday by his colleague Sen. Porter, immediately adjourned.

Before adjournment, Vice-President Curtis appointed a committee of 20 senators to make funeral arrangements. President Hoover sent condolences to the family.

The calling of the Geisha girl has always been a beautiful and useful one but the government officials say that it is too costly to train and educate the Geishas over the necessary period of years. For quality . . . economy and convenience . . . Wonder-Cut Bread

Sure it helps? Of course! It's the seal that Good Housekeeping awards to food products of unusual excellence. This seal on Wonder-Cut Bread means that another nationally recognized authority agrees with thousands of housewives that Wonder-Cut Bread is truly a Wonder Bread—that it gives full value for every penny it costs.

Let your master decide! Try this simple test—right in your own kitchen. Toast a slice of Wonder-Cut Bread and a slice of any other bread. Taste them both separately the same. Compare them. You'll find the Wonder-Cut Toast rich golden brown—evenly toasted over its entire surface. The other toast will be soggy—underdone in some spots, burned black in others. Wonder-Cut Bread makes perfect toast because it is baked perfectly—slo-baked. And perfect baking makes it one of the most nourishing, most nutritious foods you can buy.

"Practice Sensible Economy by eating one more slice of rich, nourishing WONDER-CUT BREAD at every meal." Read reasons why.

WOMEN instantly discovered the convenience of Wonder-Cut Bread—sliced and ready to serve. "It saves us minutes when we need them most," they said. Now, thousands of them are pointing out that Wonder-Cut Bread is good dollars-and-cents economy, too.

"Extra slices replace more expensive food," "Better for you and much better for your pocketbook," "Saves minutes and saves dollars, too," they say. And it's all very true. Good rich milk in double quantities, nourishing flour, milled from the heart of the wheat berry, and slo-baking make Wonder-Cut Bread one of your most nutritious foods. And, fortunately enough, it's one of the least expensive, too.

Better still, the delicate flavor of Wonder-Cut Bread will make you want to eat more. Unless you've tried this famous slo-baked bread, you probably don't know that bread alone can be delicious. You'll find Wonder-Cut Bread fresh at your grocer's. And you'll find it fresh in your bread box, too—until the last slice has gone to meet an eager appetite. Try this good loaf for a new experience in convenience and economy.

SOMERVILLE
MOTHER ASKS
FOR AID

A Somerville mother of 11 children has turned to the Helping Hand department of the Boston Evening American for assistance.

In her letter, filed in this office as case 131, she states that her children are forced to remain indoors all day because they lack warm clothes and shoes. Her husband is under the care of a physician and unable to work.

Persons desiring to aid the family may call the name and address by mailing the Boston Evening American at Liberty 4000.

11 NEED CLOTHES
(Refer to Case 131)

I am the mother of 11 children who are badly in need of some underclothes. They have no warm clothing to wear at all. The children have to stay in all day because of lack of clothing.

Their father is under the doctor's care and unable to do a thing in the line of work to help the family.

The children's ages range from eight months old to 10 years. Any clothes at all that would be sent shall be a God-send, as I am in dire need.

This woman lives in Somerville. Anybody wishing to aid may call the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and refer to Case 131.

BOY ASKS AID
(Refer to Case 132)

I am 17 years old. I have three brothers and four sisters younger than I am. I am working every day and I only make $14 a week.

My father is not working for almost a year. My $14 is all we are living on. My mother has been dead for eight years. If you will kindly help us we will be very thankful. If possible we would like to get some clothes of any kind.

This boy lives in Cambridge. Anybody wishing to aid may call the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and refer to Case 132.

FAMILY WANTS BASKET
(Refer to Case 133)

I am a boy of 14 years. I am asking you to help my mother out this Christmas. This year my mother is not able to work as she is sick. My mother has worked in the buildings for 16 years, but this year she is not able. So you can be sure we make it and my father works four days a week. We have seven children. We would be very grateful if you would help us.

This boy lives in South Boston. Anybody wishing to aid may call the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and refer to Case 133.

MOTHER ASKS AID
(Refer to Case 134)

I am asking you for aid, as I have no one else to ask. My husband has been out of work for over a year and I have nine children. There is only one son working and he only gets $19 a week. So you can imagine how we have been living. I can't give them a Christmas dinner, so won't you please help us out and send us a Christmas basket. For the sake of my little ones, please don't forget us.

This woman lives in East Boston. Anybody wishing to aid may call the Boston Evening American Helping Hand, Liberty 4000, and refer to Case 134.

Kansas City, Dec. 18 (AP)—James Pate, prosecutor, today sought the return of Everett Haldiman, 17, leader of a group of 15 "boy gangsters" now under arrest.

Gangland Short

CZAR'S BURIAL
STORY DOUBTED

Prague, Dec. 18 (AP)—Gen. Janin, French officer, who was in Siberia in 1919, has revealed in a book what purports to be the location of the remains of the former Russian Czar and Czarina and members of his family.

Janin asserts he was given the remains of the Czar, Czarina and Czarovich by the Russian general, Diatlovich.

Janin claims to have buried them secretly in his own family plot in France.

With the bodies were buried jewels and other ornaments.

Paris, Dec. 18 (AP)—Eugene Regnault, French high commissioner to Siberia in 1919, today expressed doubt that Gen. Janin had brought the ashes of the former czar of Russia to France.

Regnault said he had gone with Janin years ago to the house at Skakelburg, where the czar and his family were supposed to have been executed.

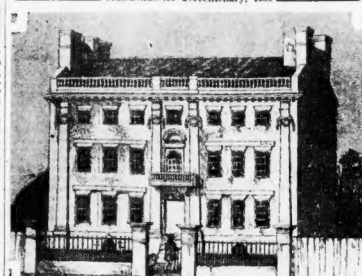

"We found neither bodies nor ashes," he said.

FORGER STARTS PLOT IN JAIL

Thompson, Mo. Dec. 14 (AP).—The ambitious plot of a convict-forger hatched in his Maine State prison cell here to acquire merchandise and loans through the fraudulent use of business names, was the subject today of a triple investigation.

Authorities sought to sift the scheme, which Deputy Warden G. C. Hopkins announced last night involved the services of two guards in the smuggling of letters in and out of the institution.

Hopkins said the guards had confessed and had been suspended. He did not divulge their names or that of the convict.

When two articles of merchandise arrived at the prison, Philadelphia customs investigation revealed they had been received by the prisoner in the name of a Lexington man and ordered sent to the prison as a gift to a friend.

The main plot however, centered around the acquiring of money through loaning property. The prisoner, who, although once pardoned, was information on property, had been arrested in 1924, when he had been arrested in Portland, Me., for a similar offense. He was released on parole in 1927.

BROKEN BATHING

Oscar Glyn Pays Much Attention to Grace

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE
Wilda, cordless, bookkeeper in a hardware store, is in love with Oscar Glyn. He is no idler, Wilda thinks, but "he has a rare smile." Wilda's father dies and her mother, Grace, becomes a different woman when the lawyer says the estate will amount to $10,000. She plans a trip to Europe. Wilda has a wonderful time at a house party where Logan tells her to marry him. Wilda, who is determined to win Logan, turns up at the dock as Wilda leaves aboard for Europe. Logan's jealousy is affectionate. Grace finds an admirer on board the steamship.

(Copyright, 1918)

NEVER MIND the loss of her rings, thought Grace. No one could see. Least of all Oscar Glyn—that was his name—who, only a few hours ago, had complimented her so charmingly on her complexion. The beauty parlor had tipped her off to quite a hint or two. They'd done her a good service.

Before leaving for abroad she'd popped into that first existing shop and bought one of her cute little traveling boxes. The price had been too good, she'd say, whenever she thought of the outlay. She'd just left that sliding side of the box and gain reassurance by viewing the array of eye-shade and rouge and creams and bottles.

Pandora's Box

Grace's Make-Up
Pandora's box, indeed it was! Containing the most marvelous lotions and "tonics."

And why not? When one was 14 and had never had any fun at all in life, and then came into the necessary wherewithal, one had a right to be beautiful.

Like her father, she had a queer streak in her . . .

But I shall let that bother me. It might look like a box, but it was no box. It was a Pandora's box, indeed it was! Containing the most marvelous lotions and "tonics."

Before her triple mirror Grace rubbed and rubbed her cheeks that later would blossom like roses.

She pressed a belupish by the door. Came the quick footsteps of a maid.

"Tell the hairdresser to expect me in 20 minutes' time."

"Very good, madam."

She hesitated for a moment where the maid had withdrawn. Date she venture down the corridor in this disheveled, bath-suit?

She should run into Mr. Glyn's with skinflint on her face.

One Must Dare

As Well as Suffer
One must dare, as well as suffer. One must dare, as well as suffer.

Nevertheless, she drew a bead and up well down over her forehead.

"It's not called by that name exactly in my money words," she implied.

He was a gentleman, the Oscar Glyn. Directly after dinner he would be waiting for her.

They'd go up to the salon. Right by the side of the door he would have looked their little table.

She bowed that Wilda wouldn't linger long with them playing "whodunnit." Wilda was gone. She ought to dance. But last night, she had snatched in the picture, and had back none, slightly listening to the music, and no doubt dreaming of a man back in New York, young and handsome.

Because there were eligible bachelors on the ship that was both stupid and annoying. Grace had told Wilda. Grace had been about a couple of young men with good incomes from the pulpit.

That was it, yes. Who on earth wouldn't dance with him? The stupor. And his feet are

200 CASES OF HOLIDAY LIQUOR SEIZED BY POLICE AT COHASSET

Uncle Sam Blocks a Lot of Holiday Joy

RUM RUNNERS LANDED 200 cases of "good stuff" on the beach at Cohasset this morning and ran away when Chief Pelletier and his men popped into the picture. They were in

RUM RUNNERS ESCAPE IN SPEED BOAT

Leave Liquor Piled on Shore; Coast Guards Lose Craft in the Darkness

Chief Hector Pelletier of the Cohasset police, accompanied by four officers, seized 200 cases of holiday liquor, which had just been unloaded on the beach in the rear of the summer home of J. F. McElwain, from a motor launch, early today.

The launch was found in the darkness and the launchers were seen to be in the water. The police started the launch as it was fleeing and gave chase but lost it in the darkness.

The launch while the liquor was seized is about a mile from the point where State Const. Daniel J. Conroy, who captured some rum runners, was seized. The McGowan Point launch was seized.

The launch was brought to Cohasset and stored in the Appraisers Station on Atlantic street.

At 10 o'clock, the launch was seized by the police. The launch was found in the water and the launchers were seen to be in the water. The police started the launch as it was fleeing and gave chase but lost it in the darkness.

CLARA BOW AND GARY COOPER TO BE STARRED IN FILM BY PARAMOUNT

MAMOULIAN WILL DIRECT "AFTER SCHOOL"

By LOVELLA O. PARSONS
Universal Service Motion Picture Editor
Copyright, 1936, by Universal Service, Inc.
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Paramount's new little plan to co-star Clara Bow and Gary Cooper in a picture with backbone, has materialized. Dashiell Hammett, writer of detective stories, has written an underworld story called "After School" with a part for Clara that will make her fans clap for joy and a part for Gary that is the opportunity he should have had a long time ago. Ruben Mamoulian brought her from New York by Paramount, will direct them.

I have always maintained that Clara Bow was one of the most talented young actresses on the screen. The reason she has slipped to the last year is no fault of hers. The "clown" she has been given has been glib, Clara has outgrown the baby flapper stage and is ready now to tell the big-time class. As for Gary, he is ready now to tell the big-time class. BEST STOCK MARKET
IN WALL ST.

New York, Dec. 18.—Further recovery of share prices cheered the stock market today, and bears were made to do their utmost.

The violence of the advance, however, was checked as shares rose to nearly 30 points from yesterday morning's low levels, naturally attracted considerable profit taking and liquidation in the last hour.

CLOSING IS FIRM.

Among pivotal shares were a few net gains of 10 points or more, but a few net gains extended from 3 to 10 points. The market was a whole closed from 1 to 7 points up for the day.

The closing tone was firm, however, and final sales approximated 3,500,000 shares. Particularly encouraging was a rally in the bond market. Grains, however, eased.

Am Steel closed barely steady, off 1/2, after selling up 2. Such losses as General Electric, General Motors and Radio showed slight change. American Can closed up 1/2 after making an extreme gain of 2.

Am Chemical, Allied Chemical, New York Central, John Manville and American & Chicago closed with gains of 4 to 7 points.

Auburn Auto, in which bears were expected to be concerned, advanced 3 points and closed up 1/2. Case shoe up and closed up 1/2. Copper turned heavy, Anaconda losing 3 points.

Despite the numerous disappointments of recent months, many common houses felt the selling climax of yesterday had clarified the situation sufficiently to justify the belief that the market's bottom had been reached.

While an upturn of such violence may result in some backing and filling, the market is expected to be according to precedent if it stabilizes itself a little and the market is held, and turned extremely dull for a few pending common shares.

Am Chemical, Allied Chemical, New York Central, John Manville and American & Chicago closed with gains of 4 to 7 points.
